"DO IT NOW" is Theme of Winter Works Campaign

Willow Valley Trophy Club Winners Named

Several hundred sportsmen from all over Alberta gathered in the Lundbreck Community hall Saturday to attend the ever-growing Willow Valley Trophy Club Judging Day which has now become an annual occasion for all hunters and fishermen in the district.

Master of ceremonies at the affair was president of the club, John Sekella, of Willow Valley, assisted by secretary Steve Kubasek.

Interesting addresses dealing with hunting and game laws were given by John Hogan, superintendent of the Crows Nest Foresty offices in Blairmore, and by Ken Dezell of Calgary.

In his address, Mr. Hogan spoke on the responsibility of each member of fish and game associations, pointing out that each member should take an active and conscientious part in meetings and should investigate, study and make sure of facts before passing any motion.

He added that he was of the opinion that Fish and Game Associations should undertake a program of training hunters in order that they learn hunting laws with a view to promoting better hunting and good sportsmanship.

Study groups could be organized by clubs in order to train hunters to be gentlemen and sportsmen in the field. He stated that the government were most anxious to assist Fish and Game Associations in the proper utilization and conservation of our natural resources.

Mr. Ken Dezell of Calgary, also gave an interesting talk and spoke on problems of the hunter and the land owner. He stressed the importance of training new and young hunters which would result in better hunting conditions. He concluded his address in congratulating all hunters in the area with entries in the Willow Valley Trophy Club competitions.

Several films on hunting were also shown and appreciated by the large gathering after which lunch was served.

Winners of the various trophies were:

Gas Processing Meeting re Plant At Sentinel

Well over 100 persons from the Crows Nest Pass towns gathered in the Coleman high school auditorium Monday evening, January 9th, to voice their approval of the site chosen at Sentinel, four miles west of Coleman, for the construction of a $20,000,000 gas processing plant.

Many aspects of the benefits of such a plant were discussed and it was unanimously felt that construction of the plant would be definitely beneficial to this Crows Nest Pass district.

As a result of the meeting a motion was made to the effect that the meeting urge the joint Crows Nest Pass towns committee in their representation to government departments support the location of the plant at Sentinel, four miles west of Coleman, it being understood that matters of public health have been investigated.

A committee from the Crows Nest Pass towns committee was then selected when Mayor Frank Abasoff, F. J. Lotz, Mayor Ernest Goulding and Mayor William Jalip will travel to Edmonton if necessary to attend a meeting and lead the support of the Crows Nest Pass towns committee to favor the site of Sentinel as the site for the processing plant.

The idea of Fernie's Snow Valley being the site for the Olympics was originally suggested by Sam Worthington, manager of the North Star Ski Club of Kimberley, B. C.

Mr. Worthington, who is quite familiar with conditions necessary for such an event, when Mayor Frank Abasoff, F. J. Lotz, Mayor Ernest Goulding and Mayor William Jalip will travel to Edmonton if necessary to attend a meeting and lead the support of the Crows Nest Pass towns committee to favor the site of Sentinel as the site for the processing plant.

The mishap occurred about 6:15 a.m. when Mr. Kosyniuk had just left the wash house where he had changed clothes to go to work as a cat driver at the Vicar mine.

He was driving north across the tracks in the mine yard when a slowly moving diesel pushing a tanker in westerly direction caught the right side of Mr. Kosyniuk's car and pushed the car towards a building.

Mr. Kosyniuk tried to get out of the driver door, but it seems the door had sprung and would not open. He jumped into the back of the car and got out of a back door and was not injured.

The car was pushed only a short distance when the engine stopped. The vehicle was extensively damaged. Weather at the time of the accident was blustery and dark.

Mr. Kosyniuk is expected to be released from hospital in a few days. The fact that he was not seriously injured is due to the fact that he was wearing his seat belt.

Accompanying this internationally known figure was Clarence Servold of Camrose, Alberta, one of Canada's top Olympic skiers, and both men highly favored Fernie as a site for the 1968 games.

Mr. Kosyniuk is expected to be released from hospital in a few days. The fact that he was not seriously injured is due to the fact that he was wearing his seat belt.

Expenditures were mainly for moving the ski facilities to a new site and to build a road into the ski area. This has now been done and the new ski hill is to be officially opened on Sunday, January 22nd.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

Some Goals For '61

There are several goals which Canada must aim for during 1961 if we are to have continued prosperity.

One goal is increased exports. About one-fifth of our gross national product is accounted for by exports, whereas the USA depends on exports for only one-twentieth of its GNP.

We have a small domestic market to begin with. On top of that handicap, we have loaded ourselves with expensive government services. These costs find their way into the prices of our exported goods, and buyers begin to resist. Foreign buyers do not wish to pay for our social services and vast power projects.

Another roadblock to exports and even selling in our own domestic market is the high cost of Canadian labor. The high wages paid to those who are working are actually making it less likely that others can be employed. Canadian labor, in its own self-interest, should wish to see productivity increase to the point where prices can be lowered so that our products and services can be sold in competition with those of other countries and other trading blocs.

Another goal we must aim for is a reduced tax bill. The government took some steps in that direction with its baby budget. So far, so good; but what is needed is a massive reduction in all tax rates, so that these reductions would be reflected in lower prices. From such action we could expect to see business humming in West Germany.

And from lower tax rates the government would eventually reap an even higher volume of revenue.

In short, Canadians should take stock. We live in a country with bountiful natural resources; but it is a cold and sparsely-populated country, and many of our resources are hard to get at. Unless there are incentives to develop them, and the possibility of selling the resulting products, they do us no good.

Canada's economic situation is much sounder than some of the gloomy commentators would have us believe. The present government, it must be admitted, inherited a great number of problems. The world situation is uneasy. Competition is stiffer than it has been for a long time. The days when we could export or consume everything we produced, regardless of price, are gone. We must cut costs, increase productivity, and generally act like a team that knows that it is playing in a tougher league.

Letter to the Editor

Canadian Red Cross Society
Calgary, Alberta
Dec. 20, 1960.

Dear Friend of Red Cross,
Evaluation of any humanitarian effort is always difficult to assess for it goes far beyond material assistance. To those human beings whom life has dealt a shattering blow, a helping hand means the return of one of life's most precious commodities—New Hope.

During the past year our Society has continued to keep faith with those in need of help around the world while also continuing the flow of life-saving blood to Canadians at the rate of a pint every 90 seconds.

In all our efforts during the past 12 months we were joined wholeheartedly by your news personnel. You told our story of help to paraplegic victims in Morocco — reported our assistance to earthquake victims in Chile — released the news of help to typhoon victims in Japan and India — gave stalwart support to our appeals for funds and blood — and provided continual coverage of day to day activities on the home front.

For your outstanding contribution to the work of Red Cross in the past year we say a truly heartfelt "Thank You" and with the wish that the New Year will bring you Happiness, Good Fortune and Success in all your endeavors.

Most sincerely,
D. H. TOMLINSON,
Commissioner,

WORLD'S FIRST FUEL DELIVERY

The first man who picked up a burning faggot and carried it into his cave was making a delivery of fuel. A bit unreliable, perhaps, but it was a step in the right direction.

Man has taken many steps forward since then. One of the greatest was when he learned to use oil.

Because oil products have been made available at reasonable prices everywhere in Canada, oil heats more than half our homes. And speaking of reasonable prices—over the past 10 years the price Imperial receives for home heating oil has risen far less than the cost of other things—only one-third as much as the general cost of living.

Jury Returns Open Verdict

A coroner's jury, under the direction of Coroner W. McLeod of Pincher Creek, held in Blairmore Court House Wednesday evening, investigating the deaths of Tom Belec and Desmond Huntley, returned the following verdict in both cases: "We the jury, find that Tom Belec and Desmond Huntley came to their deaths December 14th, 1960, as a result of injuries received at a private crossing of the Canadian Pacific Railway just west of the town of Blairmore, when the car they were in was struck by a CPR train." The jury comprised Fred Smith, foreman; Albert Avoledo, E. Megli, Fred Schilling, John Lloyd and Dr. R. B. Burman of Blairmore.

Evidence given by Dr. Henry G. S. Medlicott of Pincher Creek, who performed the autopsy, indicated that Desmond Huntley, 42 years of age, had died as the result of brain damage and inter-cranial hemorrhage. He also stated that Thomas Belec, driver of the car, had died from shock hemorrhage, and internal injuries.

Dr. Emil Alelio, attending physician of Coleman, stated that when he examined the men at the scene of the accident, that Belec was dead when he was taken out of the car. Desmond Huntley was taken to the hospital, where he passed away at 12:15 p.m.

Cpl. F. Murray of the Blairmore detachment of the RCMP, described the scene of the accident.

Evidence was also given by Philip Babine of Lethbridge, CPR brakeman; George Gordon McLean, fireman, and Andrew Stewart, the engineer. Two eye witnesses, George Walte of Blairmore who was driving a truck on the highway when the accident happened, and Ron Baum, office manager of Majestic Construction, who was looking out of his trailer office window and saw the accident happen, also gave a clear picture of what had happened.

From the evidence submitted, it would seem that Belec, driving a late model car, was proceeding in an easterly direction along the No. 3 Highway, parallel to the CPR tracks. The weather was clear, but roads were slippery due to a snowfall that had occurred about an hour before.

Hunley was a passenger in the front seat of the car.

The car turned right off of the highway and was proceeding south on the CPR right-of-way to get to Majestic Construction property on

TB Christmas Seal Campaign

The Christmas Seal Campaign has now reached $23,558 according to Mr. Ian J. Hamilton, chairman of the Kinsmen Club of Lethbridge TB Seal Committee.

"We are a little behind at this period of the campaign as compared with last year, and we are still several thousands of dollars short of our objective. Contributions have thus far been received from 10,052 people and we are confident there are many people who will send in their donation, and that we will reach our objective within the next few weeks," Mr. Hamilton said.

Officials of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association report the Christmas Seal Sale for the province is $24,107. "Thus far," said Mr. R. L. Jardine, Lethbridge, vice-president of the Association, "over 97,000 people purchased Christmas Seals and reports from our sponsoring groups indicate that daily receipts are holding up well which leads us to believe that the funds required to carry on our work will be forthcoming."

Contributions may be sent to the Kinsmen Club of Lethbridge TB Seal Sale Committee, Box 52, Lethbridge, Alberta.

"Finest Co-operation Ever" States Postmaster General

Canada's postal workers heaved a post-Christmas sigh of relief this week and doffed their caps to the Canadian public for what Postmaster General William Hamilton called "the finest co-operation ever".

While postal figures for Christmas rush were far from complete, the Postmaster General said that preliminary surveys in the larger cities showed that mail volumes would probably be slightly up this year from last year and that new records would probably be set.

The Postmaster General declared that due to the fine co-operation of the public in mailing early for Christmas, the carry-over of undelivered mail on December 24 was negligible. Many offices were complete the south side of the railway tracks.

From evidence given it would seem that the car was travelling slowly and the train was travelling about 35 to 40 miles per hour. About 15 feet from the crossing, the evidence indicated that the driver of the car saw the train and applied the brakes but slid onto the crossing.

The train, which was not oblique to blow its whistle at this crossing due to there being no whistle sign, had blown its whistle when the brakeman saw the car in the CPR right-of-way and hollered to the engineer, sitting on the right side of the train, to blow the whistle.

The fireman, sitting behind the brakeman on the left side of the train, jumped up when the brakeman hollered, and he in turn told the engineer to "Plug Her" (a term used by railway men in case of emergency). The brakes were applied to the train, but the car was hit broadside and carried down the tracks some 260 feet, where it struck a CPR switch and was then pushed another 400 feet before it fell off of the front of the engine.

The train, pulling some 50 cars, was not considered a heavy train, and was travelling east from Crows Nest to Lethbridge.

Vision at the crossing was clear for some 3,000 feet west of the level crossing.

The late Desmond Huntley, besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Huntley of Blairmore, is survived by his wife and two small children. He was a traveller for a Calgary construction equipment firm. The late Mr. Belec of Kirkland Lake, Ont., is survived by his parents. He was a driller expert, and was employed by a supply company from Eastern Canada.

pletely cleaned out well in advance of the holiday and postmasters in major Canadian centres declared that public co-operation has never been better.

Surveys of major post offices indicated that peak mailing days ranged from December 17 to December 19, as the public responded to the post office plea to post mail by December 17. Some overseas mail arrived in Canada late, but most of it was moved swiftly in a last-minute surge by postal staffs.

The Postmaster General said that this year a special effort had been made to handle first class mail on a priority basis, and that this effort would be continued and expanded next year. New techniques in the use of extra part-time staff had been successful and would be continued.

Mr. Hamilton added that the postal service could not have handled the rush of Christmas mail without the fine co-operation of Canada's press, radio and television.

The news media, he said, did a fine job of informing the public of Christmas mailing problems, and gave us assistance we could not have done without.

Interesting Pamphlet On Artificial Respiration

St. John Ambulance National Headquarters has published an interesting illustrated pamphlet describing the "mouth-to-mouth" method of artificial respiration and the correct manner of administering it when the need arises.

St. John Ambulance in its First Aid classes has for many years, taught the Holger-Nielsen and the Schafer methods of artificial respiration with excellent results and now includes a description of the third method also known as Oral Resuscitation. For obvious reasons, it does not lend itself readily to practice in class as do the other methods, but, says Dr. J. N. B. Crawford, chief medical advisor of St. John Ambulance in Canada, "this should not be allowed to detract from the fact that it is of very great value as a life-saving measure in cases of real emergency. The 'mouth to mouth' method should be known to St. John First Aiders as an alternative to other methods and in certain cases may even be the method of choice, especially when the casualty is an infant or small child."

Every person taking a St. John First Aid course has the Oral Resuscitation method described to him and receives a copy of the descriptive leaflet regarding it as a reminder of the manner it is to be applied should the occasion arise for him to do so.

The Oral Resuscitation method consists of blowing air directly from the rescuer into the lungs of the casualty via the mouth or nose. To ensure the efficiency of the method it is essential that the airway of the casualty is clear of all obstruction and free of kinks, and that there is a complete seal between the mouth of the rescuer and the mouth or nose of the casualty.

Special Stamp To Be Issued

The tremendous strides made by Canada's Indian population and the significant contribution they have made to the development of Canada in many fields will be honored by the Canada Post Office with the issue of a special commemorative stamp on March 10, 1961, it was announced recently by the Postmaster General, the Hon. Wm. Hamilton.

Occasion for the special stamp will be the centennial of the birth of E. Pauline Johnson, the famed Mohawk poetess, who was born at Chieftown, near Brantford, Ont., March 10, 1869.

In announcing the new stamp, Mr. Hamilton pointed out that although the issue was directly related to the life and work of Miss Johnson, it was intended to honor all members of her race. He noted that in recent years, particularly, Canadian Indians have made tremendous advances. They have achieved the federal franchise, made sweeping gains in educational, health and social fields and contributed pace to a vastly accelerated industrial growth of the nation.

Historically, Mr. Hamilton pointed out, Canadian Indians had produced outstanding leaders in many fields. He mentioned among other greats, Joseph Brant, Tecumseh, all outstanding military leaders.

Among modern Indians, the Postmaster General cited the Hon. Jas. Gladstone, whose appointment in January, 1958, marked the appointment of the first Indian Senator; George Clutesi, painter; Mrs. Ethel Brant Monture, author; Dr. Gilbert C. Monture, O.B.E., internationally known mineral economist and the late Brig. and Judge Oliver M. Monture.

The stamp is designed to show Miss Johnson's two personalities of Victorian lady and Indian princess. It shows the poetess in the foreground, wearing a high ruffed collar. In the background, she is depicted in tribal dress. Printed in brown and dark green, the stamp measures one and one half inches by one inch. It was designed by B. J. Reddie of Ottawa, Ont. It is of the latest 1-cent denomination and 200,000 copies will be printed.

Red Cross Sets Campaign Goal

"Let's Tell and Sell the Red Cross Story" is the slogan for the 1961 Red Cross campaign which will seek to raise $6,370,000 to maintain the many Red Cross services operating across Canada. The 1961 objective is some $19,013 above the 1960 quota of $6,350,000.

Alberta's fund-raising allotment in the 1961 appeal will be $594,000, which is $23 per cent of the total Canadian objective, and an increase of $4,000 above the 1960 provincial goal.

Provincial campaign returns to date in the 1960 appeal total $480,000, resulting in a shortage of some $42,700 from reaching the $522,700 objective.
